ABOUT THE UNIT

Speed and detail, on the same floor.

House of Mahu has manufactured garments for domestic brands and exporters. Our Umargaon unit keeps cutting, stitching, finishing and quality checks under one roof. We work proactively: fabric, fit and timeline issues get flagged early, while there's still time to fix them, not after the shipment date has passed.

HOW AN ORDER MOVES

Five stages, one roof.

No handoffs between vendors. the same team owns your order from fabric to finished, packed garment.

01 Cutting

Band knife, straight and round knife cutters across 72 ft of cutting tables, for accurate panels and minimal fabric wastage.

02 Stitching

189 computerised JUKI single-needle machines, backed by overlock, flatlock and 12-needle chain stitch for both woven and knit construction.

03 Finishing

Computerised bartack, buttonhole and button-stitch for trims, then fusing, vacuum ironing and steam pressing for a clean final press.

04 Quality check

13 lit inspection tables to check stitching, measurements and finish before any piece is packed.

05 Pack & dispatch

Folded, tagged and packed to your specifications, ready to ship on the committed date.

WHY US?

What you get when you work with us.

Detail at every stage

Computerised machines keep stitch quality consistent across every piece, and every order passes through dedicated inspection tables before packing.

Fast, and on schedule

Cutting to packing happens under one roof, so your order never waits on an outside vendor.

We stay one step ahead

Every order is planned, tracked and checked at each stage, so it stays on course from first cut to final dispatch.

HOM - UNIT

Our Umargaon facility

A look inside our 13,000 sq. ft. unit, from the cutting floor to final inspection.

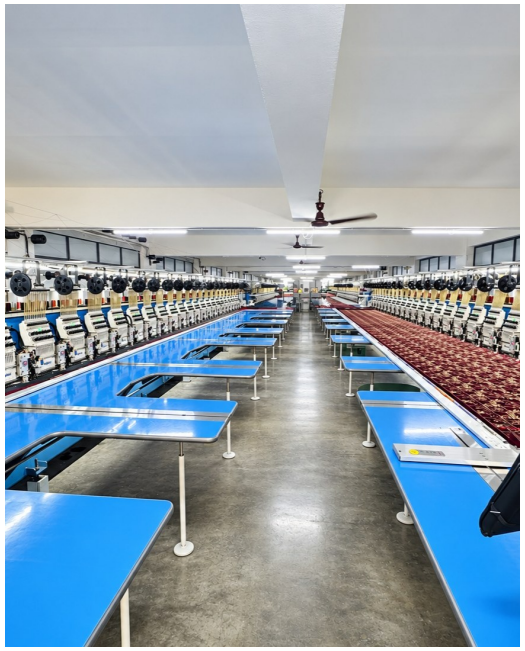

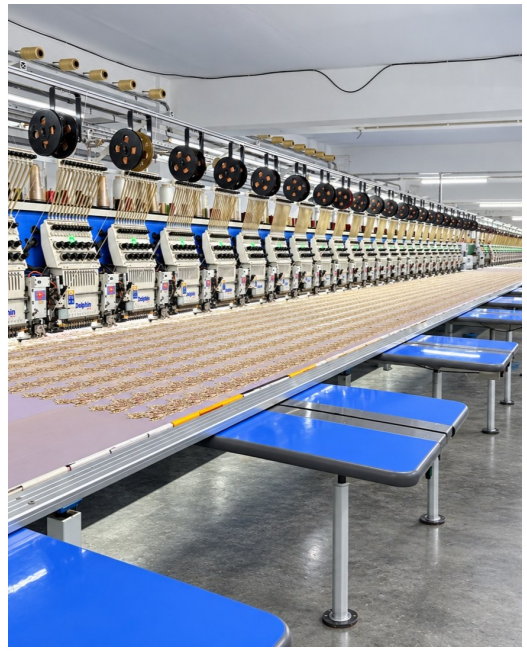

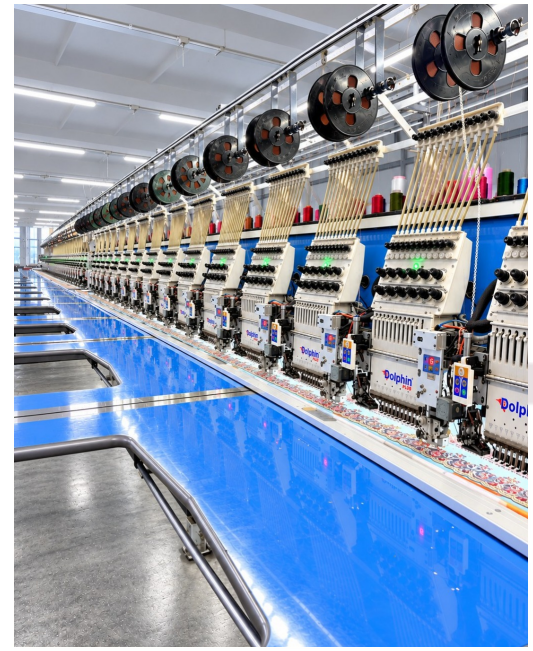

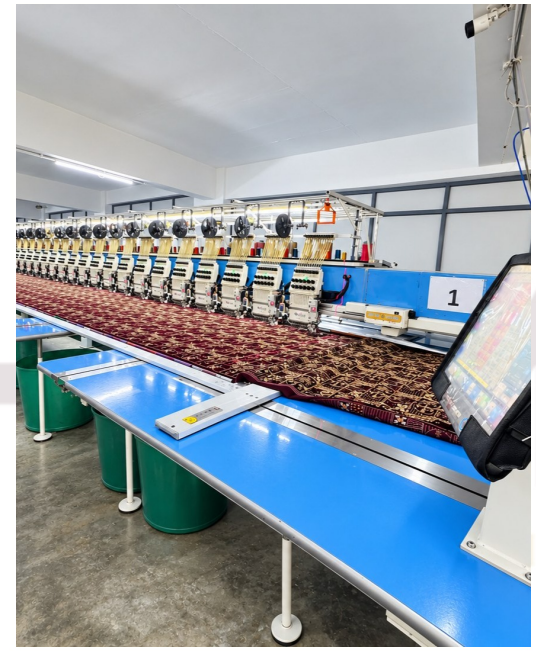

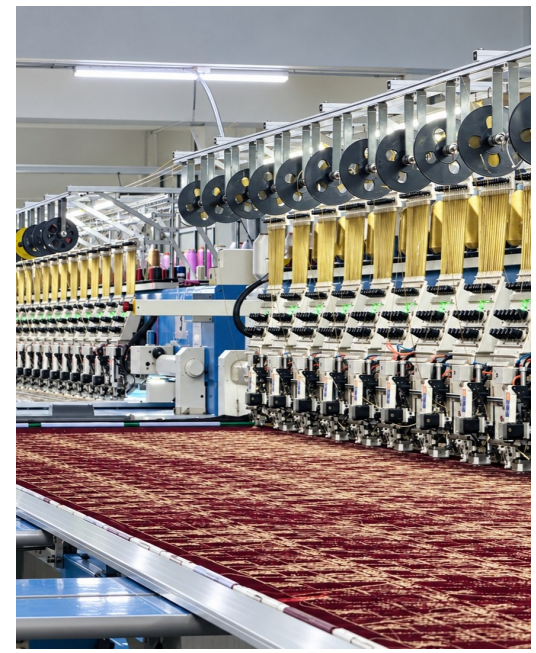

EMBROIDERY

Embroidery where the craft made.

Surat is where India's embroidery work is done, and that's where we put our unit. 30 embroidery machines, a godown big enough to lay out a full order, and karigars who do this work all year. From there the panels go straight to our own stitching floor at Umargaon.
